Confederation from an Economical Standpoint.

Among the objections urged to Confederation is one that it would be more expensive than our present system of Government for the reason (as the objectors believe) that the General Government would receive our Customs dues and Postal revenue, and force us to pass a Civil List of their own apportionment from the scanty taxes derivable from other sources. In order to demonstrate the fallacy of the reasoning of this class of objectors, we have only to direct the attention of the reader to the Act of Confederation under which the Eastern Provinces have lately been united. By the terms of that Act, the Governor General is to appoint the Lieutenant Governor of each Province. The Ministry of each Province is, however, responsible to the people for their acts. The Customs dues, Postal revenue, &c., are paid over to the General Government and form one Consolidated Revenue Fund, to be applied to the public service of the Kingdom of Canada. But the expense of collecting those revenues is borne by the General Government. The Province is not called on to pay a single official from whose services it does not derive a direct pecuniary advantage. And in return for the surrender of those revenues, what do the Provinces receive? A fee simple title to the Crown lands, mines and minerals within their borders, and protection; the assumption of their debts by the Dominion, and a fixed annual grant (to be paid half-yearly in advance) from the General Government toward the support of the local Governments and Legislatures. Of the Colonies at present comprised in the Confederacy, Ontario is now paid $80,000 per annum; Quebec, $70,000; Nova Scotia, $60,000; and New Brunswick, $50,000. In addition to this grant, each Province receives a sum equal to eighty cents per head of the entire population. Were, therefore, British Columbia admitted to the Confederacy she would be paid something like $30,000 per annum; and, estimating her white and (as the principle of taxation is in India) Indian population at 60,000, nearly $50,000, at the per capita rate of eighty cents. The General Government would thus pay over to us annually, in round numbers, the sum of $80,000 for the support of the local Government. In addition, the fines and fees of Court and trades' licences would yield about $35,000, and we should thus have a total sum of $115,000 at our disposal each year. When we remember that during the last year of Governor Douglas' administration the Colony of Vancouver Island was governed at an expense of $110,000, and that that expenditure took place during the flush times of '63-4, when a large population had to be kept in order, new roads built, and a strong staff of officials maintained, we cannot see why, under the changed state of affairs, there should not be a balance remaining to the credit of the Colony. Indeed, without in the slightest degree detracting from the efficiency of the public service, the entire expense of the Civil List might be defrayed out of a less sum than is now required in the payment of a Governor alone, leaving the remainder of the allowance to defray current expenses, which, if not kept within reasonable bounds, will be the fault of the people themselves. In preceding articles, without reference to the economical bearing of the question, we have endeavored to show that Confederation is desirable from a political and commercial point of view, inasmuch as it would restore to us the liberties of which Union deprived us, and would secure a lower tariff. We again take occasion to impress upon the public mind the importance of immediately endorsing, in an unmistakable voice, the action of our Council last year. We assure our readers that such an expression is necessary to insure a favorable answer to their request. As the case now stands, it is within the power of a Government notoriously hostile to the measure to destroy the chances that a short time ago appeared so bright in favor of our admission. It is known that our poripatetic Colonial Secretary Birch was at Quebec a few weeks ago, and it has been published in the Government organ at Westminster that having been favored with an interview by the Governor General, Mr Birch succeeded in convincing that gentleman that Confederation is impracticable at present. To counteract the baneful effect of Mr Birch's statements (which may pass for Gospel where he is as little known as in Canada) the voice of the Colonists should be heard in favor of Confederation. Late advices from Canada assure us that a Government measure is being prepared for our admission; but what would be said if the Ministers, upon introducing the measure, were met with the assertion that the British Columbians are opposed to the scheme—having changed their minds since the adjournment of the Council, and if the authority furnished should be the Chief Executive Officer of British Columbia? How could the friends of the Colony at Ottawa successfully refute the statement in season to be of any service within the next twelve months at least? And, meanwhile, we might find Governor Seymour resigned, Mr Birch invested with the governing toga, and a new and hostile Ministry in power at Ottawa! The people hold this great question in their own hands. If they be true to themselves in the present crisis, and press their claims vigorously upon the attention of the Confederacy, those claims will be listened to, because the Ministry is in favor of our admission, and because the Parliament is Conservative by an overwhelming majority and pledged to pass every Government measure placed before them. A few days only are left in which an appeal can have any effect. Parliament will assemble early in November, and it is of vital importance that the Government should be prepared, on the day of opening, to lay a scheme for our Confederation before that body. Will the people move in this matter, or are they content to allow the only opportunity they may have for years to secure an economical and popular system of Government to pass unimproved?

The Mayoralty.
MR EDITOR—Your correspondent "S." in this morning's issue, states that he and others signed the requisition to Dr Trimble upon the faith of a statement "that Mr Franklin had withdrawn."

As one who signed that document, I beg many not be identified with the "others" alluded to by "S." Had Mr Franklin been a candidate, I should certainly have supported him in preference to any other, as a gentleman, tried, and well qualified, and one whom I hold personally in the highest esteem; in fact, I have several times during the last month addressed him on the subject, but without being able to obtain a distinct declaration as to whether he intended to stand or not for the office.

Under these circumstances, the time for action having arrived by a candidate appearing in the field, I pledged my support to the Doctor, having been informed that he was willing to stand. I feel it on my conscience to make this statement, to show that were I inclined to depart from my pledge, I have no shadow of excuse to come before you for preliminary absolution.

Yours, &c.,
B P GRIFFIN.

The Signers of Dr Trimble's Requisition.

EDITOR COLONIST:—My limited powers of comprehension cannot reach the meaning of your correspondent "S." when he says "he signed the requisition to Dr Trimble on the understanding that Mr Franklin had withdrawn." Now, inasmuch as Mr Franklin this year, never to my knowledge came forward as a candidate for the Mayoralty, I am at a loss to see how he can have withdrawn. Certainly, Mr Franklin appears to have a grievance, but it must surely be of his own making. If he had wished to reoccupy the Civic chair, why not have declared his intentions, instead of vacillating about till he led his friends to believe that he declined to stand for election. I for one (as well as many more of his friends) certainly understood him to decline to resume the office, and consequently am using my best endeavors to return Dr Trimble. I quite agree with you, that "S." or any other man, may vote for whomsoever he pleases; at the same time, should advise "S." to "plump" for the Doctor, and so be on the winning side. Furthermore, I was one of the party who carried round the requisition for the Doctor, and find that eight of the gentlemen who signed the Macdonald requisition said they would not have done so had they known that any man like Dr Trimble was coming forward. Are not those gentlemen privileged to vote as their conscience dictates, in the same manner as "S." wishes to do? I certainly take Mr Editor's view of the matter, and say they "would not be guilty of a breach of faith" in so doing.

Yours, &c.,
T.

"Junius" and his Strictures.

EDITOR COLONIST:—The effusion in Tuesday morning's paper over the signature "Junius" is so puerile (whence, no doubt, the nom de plume) that it can have no weight with any adult citizen. Still, as his intentions may be good—though his education has been neglected—it is right to inform Junius that that which is given or done without substantial reward claimed or expected is given or done gratuitously. For instance, a man acts gratuitously when he saves the life of another, even though he may know that he will thereby earn the gratitude of a whole family and the applause of a country-side.

Allowing the word the meaning Junius suggests, no voluntary act can be gratuitous, as some satisfactory result is always hoped for; unless, indeed, it be the writing of such letters as his, whence neither money, nor fame, nor thanks nor self-approbation can result.

In another portion of his letter Junius misquotes Mr Macdonald's letter by stopping short in the middle of a sentence. Was this ignorance or malice? In yet another portion (about half way between the "commencing part" and the concluding part) our author hints that Mr Macdonald led the firemen to think that they were being entertained at his private cost, and then charged the expense to the Municipal funds. Alas! Junius, I fear me that ignorance is not thy worst failing, and pity the cause that needs such support as thine. MENTOR

Our Paris Letter.

(Special Paris and Continental Correspondence.)

PARIS, Sept. 6th, 1867.

The Emperor's visit to Salzburg had already furnished the journals and the public with matter for speculation, in which, it must be admitted, there was more cause for despondency than hope, when a fresh occasion for conjecture and discussion was offered them by the Imperial tour through Flanders. In the vague expressions of the Emperor's speeches at Lille and Arras, of which I deem it unnecessary to give you even extracts, as you will have received them from other sources, there is so much that is dubious and so much to which a double meaning can be applied, that it is not surprising that persons of every political creed find in them appreciations that are as widely different as are the creeds they profess. Some seem to believe that the speeches in question imply and even promise "peace and prosperity to France." The Emperor, they say, must be full of confidence in the future to have uttered such words as he did at Arras; whilst the opposite party cry out that he must be inspired with fear of inevitable war to have spoken as he did at Lille. It is, however, certain that if the speeches be viewed with impartiality they will be found to contain nothing calculated to arouse the suspicion or excite the ill-will of the Prussian Government. The "black spots on the horizon," of which so much has been made, are words to which a false construction has evidently been attached, and if the Emperor had meant war, his language would have been widely different and far more explicit. His position obliges him periodically every year to keep his subjects alive with a few words coming from his own lips, and, when he has nothing particular to reveal, he acquits himself of the task as best he can with expressions of a vague but reassuring nature; and it is the fault of his hearers if they find therein ground for foreboding and distrust. That war may come is probable; but will France rush blindly into a war with Prussia without first having a certainty of an alliance with Austria? It is pretty nearly certain that none has yet been formed, though there is nothing improbable in one being entered into later, should circumstances render that step necessary for the mutual interests of France and Austria. There is a projected marriage spoken of between the Prince Imperial and the Archduchess Giselle, daughter of the Emperor of Austria. This rumor seems to have more weight than an ordinary canard, and, as it has not been officially denied, there is perhaps some foundation for it. It is hard to believe that a busy, active man like Napoleon, who is not given to maudlin demonstrations, should have wasted a week in simply mourning with the Emperor Francis Joseph over the fate of Maximilian, and considering the actual state of opinion and the probable conduct of France under certain circumstances towards Austria and Prussia, it is not at all impossible that the little prince and the princess have been betrothed by their respective parents over a friendly after-dinner cigar.

I know of nothing further in the political world that is likely to interest you, and as for the world of Paris it is getting wonderfully dull. The exhibition has fallen off greatly during the last fortnight, the number of visitors has diminished and in a couple of months the doors of the huge Pantheon of industry will be closed for ever, and it will be razed to the ground. Yes, the destruction of the exhibition has been decided on; for Paris cannot do without a parade ground for her fifty thousand soldiers, and there is no other available spot than the Champ de Mars. The very name of "exhibition," however, now sickens me. It has been "done to death," it has been for some four months past not only of Paris, but Paris itself; and now, like all other things in vogue, it has become a "bore" and is deserted by its greatest votaries. Country people and strangers only visit it now, and the true Parisians find it monotonous to wander up and down its hot galleries, staring at objects whose counterpart can be seen in the shop-windows of the Boulevard des Italiens. All whose occupations allow them to leave the town are glad to escape from its broiling atmosphere and thronged streets to seek their "little Paris at the sea-side." The watering-places are more or less full, and accounts from thence inform us that they are very gay and attractive. In a day or two the Emperor at Barritz will draw a large flock of the fashion down to the south, besides which the shooting season has commenced; so that altogether Paris is as dull and empty as it can be, and nobody remains behind but the strangers, the shop-keepers and the journalists.

I suppose you have heard of the sorcerer, Zouave Jacob, a soldier in the band of a regiment stationed at Versailles, who pretended to have the power of curing all diseases by simply looking at the patients. He has created quite a sensation in Paris and holds three levees every day, to which flock in crowds the lame, the blind, the halt and the maimed. If I were to recount to you only a few of the extraordinary stories that are current about his marvellous cures, you would scarcely believe it possible that in an intelligent city like Paris such an evident sham could pass muster, or that a government which takes such paternal care of its people as to prevent them reading certain books and newspapers, holding public meetings or singing patriotic songs, should allow such an imposter to practice upon their credulity. But it is unhappily true that he is not only permitted to hold his levees, since the colonel of his regiment gives him daily leave of absence, but people holding high positions and who have—or ought to have—more intelligence than to believe in him, actually elbow their way through the miserable, ignorant crowd to solicit the benefit of his magic eyes, in the hope of finding relief from their ailment. No convincing proof of his having really cured anybody has yet reached me, though the proofs of cases in which he has failed are common enough, but the great wonder in the affair is how he has succeeded in making any intelligent and enlightened person believe in him.

FRED PAYNE has removed his Cheap Shaving Shop to the opposite side of Johnson street, just above the Miner's Saloon.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the precursors of serious illness. Some of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the diseased humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general congestion, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deeper seated and dangerous disorders of the body. The curative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and in many of the most difficult cases, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well-known public persons:

From a Forfeiting Merchant of St. Louis, Feb 4,

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of nervousness upon her head, and she has been long severely afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and efficient in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Stomach, Wind Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR BRO. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say that we ever had a case of purgative medicine. I place entire dependence on your efficient cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing, as I do, that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache anybody can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, E. D. W. FREEL.

Clark of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver far marked indeed. They have in my practice proved a most efficient cure of bilious complaints than any other remedy I mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which restores the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Washington, D. C., 7th Feb. 1856.

SIR: I have a great pleasure in recommending your Hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it could not be cured by them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BELL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. C. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have been a great trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alternative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery, dysentery, rheumatism. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Etc., etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of constipation. If others of your fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it, for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the precursor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when stopped or partially stopped, and also very efficient to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORABLE SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgia, which I ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which although a valuable remedy in skin diseases is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

FRENCH MEDICINES IN VOGUE.

BY GRIMAULT & CO.,

Chemist to H. R. H. Prince Napoleon,

49 RUE RICHELIEU, PARIS.

NO MORE COD LIVER OIL

GRIMAULT'S SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSE RADISH.

This syrup is employed with the greatest success, in place of Cod Liver Oil, which is infinitely superior in curing diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atrophy and loss of appetite. It regenerates the constitution by purifying the blood, and is in a word, the most powerful depurative known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels, and is administered with the greatest efficacy to young children subject to humors or obstruction of the glands. At last, it is very efficacious in the diseases of the skin.

No More Consumption.

GRIMAULT'S SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHATE OF LIME.

This new medicine is a sovereign remedy in phthisis and all diseases of the lungs, promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, the night sweats cease, and the patient rapidly recovers his health.

No More Poverty of the Blood and Pale Complexion.

DRS. LERA'S PHOSPHATE OF IRON.

This new ferruginous medicine contains the elements of the blood and bones, and iron in a liquid state. It is different from all hitherto offered to the public, is liquid, colorless and odorless. It especially cures chlorosis, palor in the stomach, difficult digestion, dysmenorrhea and anemia.

The majority of the Academies of Medicine of Paris recommend the Phosphate of Iron to ladies of delicate constitution suffering from anemia, and other persons in general from over anxiety, nervous emotion, over work, general debility and prostration of blood.

It is the only preparation which never causes constipation and can be borne by the most delicate stomachs.

Nervous Headaches and Neuralgias.

Instantaneously cured by GRIMAULT'S BRAZILIAN GUARANA.

A vegetable substance, used from time immemorial in Brazil, and entirely inoffensive.

Better than Copalin

GRIMAULT'S CAPSULES AND LIQUID EXTRACT OF MATICO VEGETALIS.

Where all other preparations have failed, these preparations will always effect a cure. These insure rapid and extraordinary cures of severe recent and chronic cases of private diseases. They are used in the hospitals of Paris, by the celebrated Dr. Ricord, and are found greatly to surpass all the other known means of the disease and copalin and cubeb. The injection is used in recent and chronic cases.

DIGESTIVE LOZENGES AND POWERS OF ALKALINE LACTATES.

BY BURINDU BUISSON,

LAUREATE OF THE PARIS IMPERIAL ACADEMY OF MEDICINE.

This delicious preparation is prescribed by the most reputed doctors in France, against all derangements of the digestive functions, such as gastritis, gastralgia, indigestion, flatulency, wind in the stomach and bowels, emaciation, jaundice, and complaints of the liver and biliary.

DYSENTERY, CHOLERA, FEVER, AGUE, & CHLORODYNE.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in court that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, and that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been worn to see the Times, July 13th, 1854.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—The Right Hon. Lord Coleridge, in the case of Dr. J. Collis Browne v. Freeman, stated publicly in court that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, and that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been worn to see the Times, July 13th, 1854.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—Extract from MEDICAL TIMES, Jan. 12th, 1856—Is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhea, Colic, &c., Consumption, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is a certain cure in Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhea, Colic, &c.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne—Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases. From A. McTearney, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay—Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. It has by its use my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering and when all other medicines had failed.

DR. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—CAUTION—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle. Sole Manufacturer J. J. Davonport, 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury London. The immense demand enables the proprietor to reduce the price; it is now sold in bottles, 1s 1/2; 2s 9d; 4s 6d and 11s.
